MARINE DISASTER.

Collision in the English Channel—Steamer Sunk and Many Lives Lost.

London, Nov 26—The steamship Pomerania, Captain Schwenzen which left New York Nov 14 for Hamburg and arrived at Plymouth at mid night on the 24th was sunk by a collision with a Welsh bark off Folkestone last night. Fifty eight persons are missing 162 were saved

The collision occurred at midnight during a fog, eight miles from Folkestone The Welsh bark is reported to be Noel Eilian of Carnarvon from Rot terdam to Cardiff The Pomerania was en route from Plymouth to Hamburg and foundered in about ten minutes The iron screw steamer Glen gary saved 17 of her passengers and crew and landed them at Dover The vessel with which the Pomerania was in collision is anchored off Folke stone with her bows stove and her forward com partment full of water A tug has gone to her as sistance.

Account of the Lost Vessel

New York Nov 26.—The Pomerania had on board 152 passengers when she sailed from this port on November 14th It is not known how many were left at Plymouth as passage is always engaged for Hamburg even if the passengers in tend to land at Plymouth or Cherbourg The offi cers and crew of the vessel numbered 111 The following is a list of the officers Captain H F Schwenzen chief officer R Franzen second offi cer O Fokkes third officer W Zirnow fourth officer A Gesloff chief engineer O Helms sec ond engineer R Bernhard third engineer F Koser fourth engineer E Kugelke physician Dr J Scheuding purser C Niens chief steward C Peters first cabin upper saloon and B Kruger first cabin lower saloon Capt Schwenzen was born in Flensburg Schleswig on the 28th of August, 1890 The cargo of the Pomerania was valued at about $250 000 and was all consigned to Hamburg except 17 500 Mexican dollars consigned to Lon don and undoubtedly delivered at Plymouth Seventeen bags of letters and 25 bags papers are supposed to be lost Hopes are entertained some survivors from the swamped boat may have been picked up by passing vessels The boats of the Glengary searched all night Several good swim mers owe their lives to the long search All on board the Pomerania were aroused Nobody was left sleeping There is great excitement at the office of the company in this city The Pomera nia was built at Greenock on the Clyde in 1873 She was of 3 382 tons burden The following were her principal proportions Length 360 feet breadth 40 depth of hold 36 She was brig rigged Her engines were compound and of 600 nominal horse power She had six bulkheads She was the most popular vessel of the line

Dover Nov 26—Fifty eight are still missing Most of those rescued had nothing on save night clothes and as the night was very cold their suffer ing was intense The larger portion were in the the water clinging to the cabins of the wreck when rescued But few had succeeded in getting into the boats before she went down

Another statement of the disaster says the Pom erania was proceeding at a moderate speed when a deafening crash was heard The decks were soon filled with affrighted passengers the confusion was terrible and the air was filled with prayers and curses The veteran Capt Schwenzen stood on the bridge giving orders in a cool voice to have the lifeboats cut from the davits A little delay unfortunately occurred in launching the boats the night being dark and foggy Of the eight boats which the Pomerania carried five were successfully launched each boat holding twenty persons

A Further Account

London Nov 26 1 30 P M—A telegram just received by agents here of the Pomerania says [illegible] persons on board were saved and 58 are mis sing including Captain Schwenzen second officer Fokkes and third officer Zirnow The agent here of the Hamburg American steamship company says [illegible] passengers of the Pomerania have landed at Plymouth and Cherbourg leaving [illegible] on board [illegible] first second and one third class passengers [illegible] at Plymouth making the total number [illegible] on board when the disaster occurred [illegible]

Still Further Particulars

[illegible] further particulars of the Pomerania disaster show that at the time of the collision [illegible] was carrying [illegible] at three miles from [illegible] struck the starboard side [illegible] [illegible] were going ahead and sprang [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] down the [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] The vessel [illegible] but one being overturned [illegible] All the boats pulled away [illegible] the captain [illegible] to leave the ship until the last moment [illegible] [illegible] After pulling for an hour survivors were picked up by the Glengary [illegible] gentleman was taken from the water in an unconscious state [illegible] The Glengary stayed [illegible] the remainder of the day near where the Pomerania was seen with her masts above water The Glen gary then proceeded to Dover with those saved and landed them at 9 [illegible] were taken to the Sailors' Home treated with every kindness and breakfasted The greatest possible interest for the [illegible] circumstances was maintained by the officers and [illegible]

A Survivor's Statement

The following is the narrative of [illegible] [illegible] We had capital fun [illegible] the [illegible] until about eleven [illegible] instant We landed some passengers and took on some for Hamburg and then ran for Cherbourg [illegible] landed [illegible] passengers nearly all of whom were cabin [illegible] left [illegible] deck The [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] Sailors Home [illegible] last night at [illegible] [illegible] when I felt a [illegible] [illegible] and struck upon a rock I was alarmed but I had no think at [illegible] thing wrong as we had kept a [illegible] and the captain appears to be very careful It was blowing [illegible] after [illegible] the steward [illegible] came of the crew [illegible] [illegible] telling [illegible] we were not going to [illegible] I went on deck directly and saw our ship sinking but the fog was great [illegible] [illegible] bark had run away The crew were then all busy lowering boats The ship was beginning to sink In lowering the boats there was great confusion everybody trying to crowd into them One boat filled and sank immediately after it got into the water Two others were smashed by collision The boats were fastened up tight and we could not get them undone The Pomerania was sinking rapidly There were a number of women among the passengers I don't know how many but eight have been saved and one baby I think the baby's mother was drowned Our captain had one firework on board and let them off We managed to get into the boats that remained and had been there about ten minutes when the steamer Glengary picked us up He cruised about a long time Our captain had a chance to save his life but would stick to his ship I saw him when our boat got away from the steam er standing on the bridge giving commands and trying to obtain order and save as many as he could The vessel did not keel over but went down gradually in twenty minutes The ship which ran us down was never seen at all They told me she was a sailing bark and that with a north east wind she came bowling along and ran right into us I thought until we landed that we had run upon a rock as the weather did It was thick weather There was a good lookout on the Pom erania all the time She had smart sailors and they were all at [illegible] on the bridge and two on the fore part from the time she neared the channel Our boat was so crowded it was very nearly even with the water

Survivors taken to London

The London Chatham & Dover railway brought free to London this afternoon one hundred and [illegible] of the Pomerania's survivors [illegible] steerage and the others second and third class passengers There were no first class passengers and no women among them They will be forwarded to Germany

Conrad Poppenhausen whose name is included in the passenger list, became well known in this city by his connection with the railroads of Long Island

Mrs Anna Bodisco is the widow of Alexander Bodisco late consul general of Russia in this city Mr Bodisco died last summer and Mrs Bodisco was returning to her native country with her two sons Alexander and Boris Mrs Bodisco is a na tive of Russia, and came to this country about 20 years ago with her husband who was at that time secretary of legation at Washington When her husband was made consul in this city she came here with him and lived here until her departure in the Pomerania She has a large circle of friends at Washington

The Noel Eilian is a magnificent new iron bark of 1 100 tons gross owned in Liverpool and built at Sunderland last year What was her bow is merely a gaping fissure Only her water tight compartments kept her afloat Chief officer Fran zen commanded the last boat As he put off the captain who was on the bridge called to him to keep as close to the Pomerania as possible He laid to about ten yards from the steamer but she went down in a few minutes Officer Franzen says there was a thick fog all day Monday About 45 minutes after 11 o clock at night without hardly the slightest warning of the close proximity of any vessel a bark appeared on our starboard side and immediately crashed into us just abaft the funnel

Porphyry in Sierra Nevada

San Francisco Nov 26—The stock mar ket opened very weak this morning and went from bad to worse in the 11 o clock session This is probably attributable to rumors with which the street was filled to the effect that the whole face of the cross cut in the 2 200 foot level of Sierra Nevada is now in por phyry Private dispatches are responsible or at least are quoted for this intelligence

Money Wanted for Creditors

William Doolan administrator of the es tate of Alexander Austin deceased has brought suit in the 4th district court against the Equitable Life Assurance Society and Charter Oak Insurance Co respectively for an injunction to restrain each defendant from paying to Ellie Wilton $5 000 and $10 000 on policies of insurance in the life of the late Alexander Austin Plaintiff alleges that the policies were assigned by Austin when he was deeply in debt and the money is wanted for his creditors

WEDNESDAY MORNING, NOV. 27, 1878

A PERILOUS SITUATION.

All advices from the country east of the mountains indicate an unfortunate, excited, and perhaps really dangerous Indian situation. The whites know that many of the Indians there participated in the Bannock and Piute raid of last summer. They are satisfied that much of the mischief and many of the murders were the work of the Indians of their own locality. A portion of the Umatillas and many of the Columbia river Indians invited, encouraged and aided the invaders. For this conduct there was no provocation, since the Indians who thus proved their treachery have had no unkindness to complain of at the hands of the white settlers. They could not allege, as Joseph's band did, that any of their people had been killed, or that their property had been molested. It was simply out of the wantonness of Indian nature that they engaged in these acts of hostility, outrage and murder. It is believed that a majority of the forty-two citizens of Umatilla county who were murdered while the hostiles were in that locality, fell by the hands of Indians who had professed friendship and fidelity, and who were trusted by the settlers until events dispelled every doubt of their treachery. Many were slow to believe that these Indians were the perpetrators of any part of the outrages. And if they who were in the midst of those dreadful scenes were slow to believe it, we and others at a distance had even more hesitation in giving it credit. But at last incidents and facts were developed which could leave no question about it; and, as the settlers who had been plundered and whose friends and relatives had been murdered saw these Indians returning to the reservation or going about the country as if nothing had happened, they were filled with a natural resentment and exasperation. The difficulty of fully identifying all the guilty ones and bringing them to justice is apparent. People who had lived in the country for ten or fifteen years, who found their hard-earned property swept away and their neighbors murdered, and who saw no ready way of bringing the Indians to punishment for the past, or securing indemnity for the future, have been disposed as opportunity offered to take into their own hands measures of retaliation. A number of Indians who had gone away from the reservation have been killed, and it is now understood among them that every one who ventures away is in peril. In consequence there is a great ferment among them, and there is really danger that they will retaliate in kind. Another Indian outbreak in that section is not beyond the probabilities; and among a class of the people we are told there is a disposition even to provoke it, because they feel that there can be no peace till the whites have it out with the Indians, and cause either their removal or extermination. We have heretofore deprecated this spirit; and now, as the complications appear to be growing more serious and the situation more perilous, we desire again to remind those who are disposed to push measures to these extremes that neither they nor the country can afford it. Admitting the injuries, it remains nevertheless that many, perhaps most of them, can never be redressed. Again, let it be remembered that these Indians are not powerless. True, the result of a struggle with them would be their annihilation, but they also are able to kill, nor will they be exterminated without exacting equivalent payment of blood. If we did not believe these difficulties could be settled in another way, that is by judgment, moderation and forbearance, we should agree that the only thing was to accept the inevitable conflict and terminate it as soon as possible. But our people cannot afford to provoke this struggle. The case has moral aspects which we, more than the Indians, are bound to consider. For its own sake the community should counsel forbearance. Unless we are misinformed very much as to the situation, there is imminent danger that slumbering passions will be blown into a flame of war that will envelop our eastern borders. Taking all the disaffected Indians together, they are numerous enough to make them a formidable foe; and if they undertake it they will massacre without mercy and, and when driven into a corner they will fight with desperation.

RESUMPTION.

At present the great theme of discussion with eastern journals is resumption. The action taken by the bankers of New York and Boston with a view to sustaining the resumption policy receives in the main cordial approval; but the organs of the fiatists and of the silver bedlamites make all the discord they are able. Bankers of the greater cities generally agree that the silver dollar is the only obstacle to the maintenance of resumption, and they hope to aid the government in removing this obstacle by making proper distinction between silver and gold. They will receive silver dollars only on special deposit, under contract to withdraw the same in kind. How necessary to resumption the cordial cooperation of the banks is, must be generally apparent. A review of the situation presented by the Chicago Times shows that the eastern banks have about $100,000,000 in greenbacks which they can present for redemption after the 1st of January, if they are so disposed; and it is certain that if they were so disposed they could seriously embarrass the treasury. But they have voluntarily undertaken to aid the treasury by a policy designed to obliterate all special distinction between gold coin and legal tender notes, only protesting as to silver against those conditions which are plainly at war with the fundamental principles of business and values. The banks are bound to a strict observance of the unalterable laws of trade, with which certain ignorantly enacted statutes of congress are directly in conflict, but they have the power to exclude silver from their business, as the Pacific coast has long excluded greenbacks. This action is not only natural but necessary, since no conservative financial institution will load its vaults with a currency not only bulky and inconvenient, but forced temporarily by legislative jugglery nearly twenty per cent. above its actual value and liable to sink any day to its true position, entailing great loss on the holder. This explains the action taken by the eastern banks in relation to silver, and it shows that the laws of trade are above all the expedients of that class of legislation which ignorance, dishonesty and demagogy are so fond of resorting to in the hope of getting some advantage by disturbing the natural law of values. It is apparent to all who have carefully examined the subject congress, by its recent acts has greatly d the difficulties of resumption. The f the treasury must keep on coin- matter what trouble the silver ve; and not only this, but he the anti-contraction law from retiring greenbacks, should it be found necessary to do so to check the demand for gold. Under these circumstances the earnest co-operation of the banks in the resumption policy becomes extremely important and valuable. It is a great help in counteracting the obstacles which the folly of congressional action has thrown in the way of resumption.

A remarkable cave, surpassing the Mammoth cave of Kentucky, has been discovered in Page county, Virginia. It has been explored in various directions for long distances. The New York Herald publishes an account of the discovery and explorations, with diagrams. Within the cavern there is a wide and deep chasm in which flows a stream which is spanned by a natural bridge. Many of the galleries are wide and high, and there are great lofty chambers hundreds of feet in extent. Much of the cave remains to be yet explored, as many galleries leading off in different directions have not yet been followed out.

Statistics of 1870 showed that less than two per cent. of the males engaged in remunerative and reputable occupations in this country were members of what are called the learned professions. The great bulk of mankind must earn their living by some form of manual skill or bodily labor. Yet we plan and carry out our methods of education as though our lads were inchoate lawyers and doctors and preachers, while nine-tenths of them are really left to scramble in a haphazard way into other occupations.

Approving the action taken by the New York bankers in relation to silver, the World (Dem.), says the silver politicians may be expected to explode, but it "suspects that the western people do not hanker after the Bland coin any more than the people of the east do." "Indeed," it asks, "why should they? It is only worth 85 cents. If the country is to legislate to make silver an honest standard and measure it must authorize a dollar containing 483 grains or thereabouts."

Gen. B. F. Scribner, the new government special agent at the Alaska seal fisheries, has been instructed to stop in Chicago for the winter because there is no way of getting to Alaska, that is, to the seal islands, until spring. We paid a pretty round sum for that country, but it appears it is more inaccessible, if not more unprofitable, than "Greenland's icy mountains."

The Boston Herald drops in a shot very near the center of the mark when it says: "Considering their means of education, Wendell Phillips, living on inherited wealth, is a much more absurd person than Dennis Kearney."

Dakota is coming forward shortly with a petition for admission as a state. A population of 100,000 is now claimed; and it is believed that it will double in three years.

Taxation of mortgages, a question we have been wrestling with in Oregon for a dozen years, is under discussion in the constitutional convention of California.

Transplanted royalty is setting up governmental housekeeping in the Dominion of Canada in great style.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, NOV. 27 1878.

CITY.

DROWNED IN THE WILLAMETTE.—Another victim to strong drink lies dead to day at the bottom of the Willamette river; another poor fellow, his shipmate and friend, and the companion of his fatal carousal, lies mangled and bleeding at St. Vincent's Hospital Monday night, about 10 o'clock, Robt. McCallister and William Anderson, seamen on the British vessel Thomas S. Stowe, now lying at [illegible]' dock in this city, while dazed with liquor attempted to go on board their vessel which was connected with the lower floor of the dock. By mistake they went on the upper dock, and were walking out on a plank connecting it with the Prince Rudolph when they saw their mistake. They stopped here and were talking about the matter, when they got into a drunken quarrel and McCallister fell from the plank, and catching Anderson by a [illegible], pulled him from the plank also. The distance to the water was about thirty feet. McCallister struck the side of the ship in the descent and was so stunned as to be unable to grasp a rope which was cast to him a moment after. He struggled a moment, then sank and was drowned. Anderson in falling struck the ship twice, and finally caught by one leg between the ship's side and a fender, his head and shoulders reaching into the water. He was soon extricated and taken on board the vessel, where it was found by Dr. H E. [illegible], who was immediately called, that his [illegible] was dislocated and his head dangerously bruised. He was sent to St. Vincent's Hospital where he now is. I was painful to witness the sorrow of the wounded man when told of the death of his mate. His heavy sobs and cries of "poor, poor Bob," as he lay on the vessel's deck, himself bruised and bleeding, brought tears to eyes unused to weep. McCallister's body has not yet been found.

DEATH OF H. H. GALE.—It is with deep regret that we announce the death of Mr. H. H. Gale, late editor of the Columbia Chronicle, [illegible], W. T., which event occurred aboard the O. S. N. Co's steamer John Gates early on the morning of the 25th inst. Mr. Gale, who had long been suffering from lung disease complicated with asthma, was on his way to [illegible] when the fatal attack came on. [illegible] H. Green, of Corvallis, who happened to be a passenger aboard the boat, was called in, and was unremitting in his attentions to the dying man. Dr. Green, with the assistance of deceased's brother, J. M. Gale, prepared the corpse for interment at The Dalles, where the funeral took place the following afternoon. Capt. E W. Baughman, [illegible] E A. Noyes, Mr. U. Karsin, Mr. C. H. [illegible] and others on board the boat, rendered very material aid in the untoward event. Mr. Gale was born in Illinois, and crossed the plains with his parents when a small boy, in 1853. He early learned the printer's trade, became connected with several journals on the coast and had made his mark in the profession. His loss will be mourned by a large circle of friends and acquaintances.

JAPANESE ART TREASURES.—In another column will be found the advertisement of [illegible] & Co., to which special attention is invited. These gentlemen have on exhibition and for sale at Masonic Hall—up stairs—a most magnificent collection of Japanese art treasures. The collection is the most beautiful and costly ever exhibited in Portland, and embraces articles of wonderful workmanship in bronze, ivory, enamel, porcelain, lacquer, silk and straw work. The articles will be sold at private sale and at very low prices. The collection will be offered for sale during the present week. Call and examine their elegant assortment.

REFRESHMENT TABLE.—The refreshment table at the Catholic Fair is presided over by Mrs. T. Cashen and Miss Maggie Nyhan. The names of these ladies alone is sufficient guaranty that those who patronize their table will be served in a very satisfactory manner. A most excellent meal can be procured for the small sum of fifty cents—including all the substantials and delicacies the markets afford. Meals can be obtained at any hour during the evening and each day from 12 to

A GRAND SUCCESS.—The Ladies' Fair at Red Men's Hall is a great success. It is estimated that a thousand visitors attended last night, and from half past 7 until the closing hour the hall was crowded. The ladies worked with active zeal, and a sum exceeding the receipts of any one of the fairs formerly given was taken in. As on Monday evening, good musicians were in attendance and furnished delightful music. Open again to-night.

AFTER HIS POULTRY.—Some contemptible thief—whom it would be base slander to call a man—entered the chicken house of Mr. Hickey during Monday night and carried off his poultry. Mr. Hickey has a lock on the door of the chicken house, but forgot to turn the key that night. Consequently he mourns the loss of his chickens. Thanksgiving is just at hand, and Hickey is [illegible].

FOR FIVE YEARS.—Deputy Sheriff Page arrived here to day from the Dalles, having in custody a prisoner named Albert Evans, bound for Salem. Evans was tried and convicted at the last term of court of the crime of assault with a dangerous weapon—stabbing a Chinaman—and sentenced to imprisonment in the penitentiary for the term of five years.

UNION MASS MEETING.—Rev. J. A. Cruzan will have charge of the services to-night in the rooms of the Y. M. C. A. Dr. [illegible] will lead on Thursday evening, and Mr. J. H. Acton on Friday evening A hearty welcome for all.

TWICE A WEEK.—After December 1st [illegible] Starr's steamers will make only [illegible] per week through to Victoria—Mondays and Thursdays. The traveling public will bear this fact in mind.

ATTENTION.—A special meeting of the Exempt Firemen's Association will be held this (Wednesday) evening, at the police court room, at 7:30 o'clock. A full attendance is requested.

Cold weather is upon us, and it behooves all to be provided with a stove. The best in any style at John R Brigham's.

[illegible] & Co. at the St. Charles Restaurant are very busy now. Call on them.

SLIGHTLY DAMAGED GOODS.—Per Great Republic [illegible] fine felt skirts, worth $2 50, for 65 cents. [illegible] white hose, heavy, $1 per doz; ladies' [illegible] hose, almost perfect, $1 per doz; [illegible] white shirts, extra fine linen bosoms, [illegible] standard overalls and blouses, only [illegible]; innumerable other bargains, at the [illegible], 172 First street.

If you think of furnishing a house with a new entire outfit of furniture, and do not want to pay too much for the articles necessary, go to Edwards & Birmingham, Centennial Block. They have what you want and their prices are the lowest.

Greatly Reduced. Having bought a large lot of rustic frames at a bargain, I will close them out at 75 cents each. Mrs Chas. Tichner, corner of First and Yamhill street, Portland, Ogn.

COURTMARTIALED.

A courtmartial was recently held at Camp Cœur d'Alene, Idaho territory, for the trial of Private Lewis G Willson, company A, 2d infantry, and Private John Leonard, company A, 2d infantry

The charge preferred against Willson was "desertion" He was found guilty, and sentenced to "forfeit to the United States $10 per month of his monthly pay for the period of two months."

The charge preferred against John Leonard was "conduct prejudicial to good order and military discipline—in violation of the 62d article of war." He was found guilty and sentenced "to be dishonorably discharged from the United States service forfeiting all pay and allowances, except the just dues of the tailor and laundress, and to be confined at hard labor in such penitentiary as the department commander may designate, for fifteen years."

In the case of Private John Leonard, company A, 2d infantry, the proceedings and findings are approved. While the department commander agrees with the court that the punishment in this case should be great, yet he believes it better not to go beyond that apportioned by the civil law for the like heinous offense. He therefore reduces the confinement to five years, and designates the military prison at Alcatraz Island, Cal., as the place of confinement As thus mitigated the sentence is approved and will be duly executed

AN INQUIRY.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

Permit me to inquire if there is no remedy under our city charter to prevent the blowing of steamboat whistles at unseasonable hours? It seems to me that the long continued blowing of steamboat whistles during the early morning hours is an unnecessary nuisance, and might be dispensed with without detriment to the steamboat interest, as its discontinuance would certainly prove a blessing to the sick and nervous A SUFFERER.

LETTER FROM THE CAPITAL.

SALEM Nov. 24, 1878.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

The week just closed has been somewhat an eventful one in the history of the capital, socially, legally, politically, and otherwise The conviction of Whitney was the theme of conversation on Sunday last and his sentence to day is a subject of general comment He was, as many of your readers are aware, indicted by the last grand jury, jointly with the wife of the murdered man, of the murder near Silverton, on the 9th of September last, of Oliver Hibert

THE EVIDENCE OF HIS GUILT

Although circumstantial, was from the very first deemed sufficiently strong and conclusive to convict him of the crime, and the interest in his trial which occupied the attention of the circuit court for several days, was only exceeded by that of his supposed accomplice in crime, whose trial yesterday resulted in her acquittal. Whitney had as counsel for his defense some of the best legal talent in the state, who labored earnestly to establish his innocence Hon Rufus Mallory interested himself strenuously in the defense, while

HON. [illegible] THOMPSON

Assisted District Attorney Whitney in the prosecution. Dozens of witnesses were examined and law authorities quoted extensively on either side. The jury, however, brought in a verdict of guilty. Mrs Hibert was arraigned on a similar charge on Wednesday last, and the case has been on trial since that date up to Saturday noon. The testimony was all in Friday afternoon, and the evening session of the court was devoted to hearing the arguments Hon Ben Hayden and Col N B Knight appeared on the defense, and their arguments were exhaustive in detail and indicative of deep research in legal lore Mr Thompson's efforts in behalf of the state were likewise brilliant, and his arguments excited deep interest The court room was filled to overflowing, a large number of ladies being present—the space within the bar literally filled with them. The prisoner, a neat appearing woman, sat next to her counsel, attended by the officer of the court. Her two children—one a mere babe in arms—were with her, and the scene was one not soon to be forgotten. This was the day set for

SENTENCING WHITNEY,

But sentence was postponed until her case was tried. The jury retired about 12 o'clock, and the first ballot stood six for conviction and six for acquittal. Another ballot, taken about 3 o'clock Saturday morning, found one gone over to the side of mercy. Another hour's consultation among themselves induced two others to vote in favor of acquittal Six o'clock found them standing eleven to one in favor of acquittal, and thus they remained until about 11 o'clock Saturday morning, when word was received by the court that they had

AGREED ON A VERDICT,

Which, being given, pronounced the prisoner at the bar "Not guilty as charged in the indictment." This verdict was rather unexpected, and there were no enthusiastic demonstrations of approbation on the part of the spectators. The woman showed signs of relief, of course, as she was discharged from custody and left the court room leaning on the arm of the senior counsel. A motion having been made for a new trial of Whitney's case the afternoon was taken up in listening to the arguments, which being closed the court rendered his decision adverse to the request and ordered the appearance of the prisoner for sentence. He was brought into court, and in response to the customary inquiry as what if anything sentence should not then be pronounced upon him, the prisoner replied he had nothing to say, whereupon Judge Harding, in a few well chosen remarks, pronounced sentence.

HE DESIRED TO SAY WHY

The prisoner sat unmoved while sentence was being pronounced, nor did he appear much concerned at its close and with a firm step accompanied the officer back to his cell. Notice was given of an appeal to the supreme court, and the convicted murderer relies hopefully upon being granted a new trial, but the public sentiment insinuates strongly that the judgment of the court below will be by it confirmed That Mrs. Hibert evinces a peculiar interest in Whitney's behalf is very apparent to all, and she has told her friends that not only will she do all in her power to effect his release but also will her attorneys. She sought for and obtained

A PRIVATE INTERVIEW

With him after the sentence, and will, we feel confident, leave no stone unturned to secure his release The result of the trial has served rather to deepen certain mysteries, and the future may unveil circumstances that will throw some light upon the subject. There was an imperfected insurance of $15,000 on the life of the deceased, the which it is expected, will develop some new and interesting facts which, as yet, are shrouded in mystery. The case of B. F. Burch vs. R. P Earhart, secretary of state, involving the question as to whether the latter has the right to issue warrants on the state treasury for the amount of

THE DEFICIENCY ACCOUNTS

Reported to the last legislature and for which it passed an appropriation but levied no tax, was decided last evening by Judge Harding, of this district, in favor of the state, which case also has been appealed to the supreme court. As the matter now stands these accounts will remain unpaid until the legislature of 1880 provides for them, to the detriment and discomfiture of the holders thereof

But let us turn from court matters and legal proceeding, and note in our passage to city politics a social event of Friday evening last, on which occasion Mr. and Mrs. Wm England, of this city, received their many friends in their elegant residence just completed on one of our handsomest thoroughfares. Their spacious parlors and drawing rooms were crowded with the wealth and fashion of the city. The rooms were faultlessly decorated, and the host and hostess were untiring in their efforts to make their friends welcome. All present were loud in their assurances that the evening was joyously spent, and each departed wishing their hosts a long and happy life in their present home.

We hear it rumored that a double wedding is underlined for early presentation, accompanied by crashing receptions in the case of each.

THE REPUBLICAN CITY CONVENTION

Met at Reed's opera house last evening and placed in nomination the following ticket: Mayor, Prof. T. M. Gatch; recorder, C. W. Bowie, marshal, John W. Minto; treasurer, M. L. Chamberlin, and councilman from the second ward, vice E. N. Gilling ham resigned, Hon. S. C. Adams. The following gentlemen propose entering the field as independent candidates for recorder C. B. Moores, Esq., and John C. Booth, Esq., and F. M. Bewley, Esq., as city marshal.

EFFORTS ARE BEING MADE

To induce our popular friend S F. Matthews of Chemeketa hotel fame, to accept the nomination at the hands of his friends as councilman from the fourth ward. If he proves as popular a councilman as he does a landlord his success is assured.

THE NEZ PERCES.

Arrival of Agent Monteith and His Indians at the Bay City—They Are Interviewed.

The San Francisco Chronicle of the 20th contains the following: The steamer Oregon which arrived here from Portland yesterday, brought as passengers John B Monteith, agent of the Nez Perce Indian reservation in Idaho, Archie Lawyer, half-brother of Joseph, Chief and Mark Williams and James Reubens, members of the Nez Perce tribe together with twelve Indian prisoners of war. Their destination is the Indian territory, where they go as teachers and missionaries for the rest of them, about 460 in number, who were captured from Sitting Bull in Montana recently by Generals Howard and Miles Mr Monteith will return to the Nez Perce reservation upon the establishment in their new home of his Indian companions. It was his intention to leave this city to morrow, but a telegram was received from General McDowell last evening stating that six more prisoners were on their way to this city to be placed in his charge, and it is probable that the party will remain here for about two weeks, during which time all the points of interest will be visited, this being the only large city beside Portland that the Indians have seen.

THE INDIAN TEACHERS

Are large, well-built, fine-looking men, all raised among Joseph's tribe and educated upon the reservation Archie Lawyer is a licensed preacher of the Presbyterian Church of Portland, and will look especially after the moral interests of his people. James Reubens will teach the day schools which are to be established at the new agency, having received a good education. Six years ago he was one of the most savage of Whitebird's hostile tribe, but now is of civilized thought, speaks English readily, and is eager in his endeavors to better the social condition of his fellows. He was a scout for General Howard in the late war, and carries several wounds received from hostile members of his own tribe while engaged in battle. Mark Williams will assist Reubens in the management of the school and in teaching the Indians agriculture and civil government. He is also said to be a good vocalist and an excellent pianist They are all employed by the government, having received commissions from the secretary of the interior, upon the recommendation of the commission of Indian affairs.

AMONG THE PRISONERS

Is Tabbaboo, the chief reported by lieutenant Wallace to have been killed at the battle of Bitter Root Mountain The prisoners en route to Mr. Monteith are six who have been only recently captured, having for some time lived with the Umatilla tribe All the prisoners will be compelled to settle in the Indian territory, on the Quapaw agency, lying in the northeastern part of that country, twelve miles from Baxter Springs and adjoining the Cherokee country, near the new Modoc agency. One of the Indians, in conversation with a Chronicle reporter, said that the Nez Perces on the reservation are in a prosperous condition, have a good feeling for the whites and are generally happy. Joseph's tribe in Idaho numbers 1,162 persons on the reservation, 382 being able-bodied men, and about 600 hostile fugitives. They enjoy the benefit to be derived from one Catholic and two Protestant churches, one day-school for young men and two boarding schools, each having 22 pupils, boys in one and girls in the other In the schools a number of full-blood Nez Perces are engaged in teaching the English branches of education Seven years ago, the time Mr. Monteith first took charge of the reservation their only schools existed on paper. Mr. Monteith reports the tribe to be easily managed and one of the finest bodies, mentally and physically, of Indians in the United States.

MODERN MIRACLES.

Dr. C. M. Wood, the well-known healer, returns to his practice in Portland, after a rest of six months. His great cures of men, women and children, some of which were published in THE DAILY and WEEKLY OREGONIAN during last winter, has brought hundreds of letters from anxious sufferers, desiring information as to the permanency of his cures In order to satisfy those desiring such information, he will publish from time to time through THE OREGONIAN the original certificates of cures, and when possible, to communicate with such patients, a certificate of their present condition. $1,000 forfeited if every cure he has ever published was not genuine as stated.

Dr. Wood

Will heal the sick of chronic diseases, at corner of Washington and Front street, Portland. All curable diseases successfully treated when every other method fails. Dr Wood cures by animal magnetism, and can point to the most wonderful cures ever performed by this method. No medicine, no surgical instruments—no pain whatever.

Cure of Dyspepsia and Chronic Diarrhœa.

For the benefit of suffering humanity I deem it my imperative duty to make known to the public what has been done for me by Dr. C. M. Wood. Having been subject to dyspepsia for some 12 or 14 years, and continuing to grow worse until about four months ago, when it ran into chronic diarrhea and assumed a very dangerous condition—so much so that I found I would be compelled to stop my duties or find some relief, and having seen one of Dr Wood's circulars, I concluded to consult him and finally to be treated by him for one month the result of which I give in a few words, I feel that I am as sound as I ever have been, and that so far as my disease is concerned, I am perfectly cured

JOHN R CURRY,
Mailing Clerk, Oregonian Office

PORTLAND, Oct. 31, 1878.

This is to certify that the above diseases, for which Dr. Wood treated me nearly one year ago, have never returned, and am as well to day as when the above certificate was written.

JOHN R CURRY,
Mailing Clerk of THE OREGONIAN.

Dr. Wood cures the following diseases. Chronic Liver Complaint; Disease of the Kidneys, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Spinal Complaints; Pains in Side Back, Shoulders, Hips and Chest; Headache, Neuralgia; Heart Disease; Rheumatism; Chronic and Acute Female Diseases and Irregularities, Sore and Weak Eyes; Deafness; Ringing in the head; Bronchial Affections; Chronic Catarrh, and General Debility, caused by any of the above afflictions, at his rooms, southeast corner of Washington and Front streets over O'Connor's store, up stairs.

If every individual and every family would bestow a tithe of the care requisite in any ordinary attack of acute disease in striving to prevent and ward off its attacks, there would rarely be any use for calling in the aid of the physician. In all ordinary derangements of the stomach, bowels, liver or kidneys, you need only a few doses of Frese's Hamburg Tea.

Dr. R. F. Price, corner Third and Alder streets German Physician and Surgeon, devotes special attention to chronic diseases, whatever their nature may be, particularly those of a difficult and obstinate character. CALIFORNIA
ROOT TEA.

The Reliable Cure for Chronic Complaints of Liver and Kidneys.

THE ONLY THOROUGH BLOOD CLEANSER. The most pleasing, grateful and satisfactory Strengthening Balsam known, constantly effecting surprising cures of wasting or debilitating diseases and complaints arising from weak or impure blood, feeble circulation or impaired digestion, when all modes of treatment fail. Is of great benefit in threatened or actual consumption and heart disease, owing to its peculiar and great influence on the circulation. For the ills and weaknesses of women it is Nature's most suitable and reliable remedy.

LIVER--KIDNEYS.

Its regulating and strengthening action on these organs is different to and more desirable than that of any article heretofore in use; for indigestion, biliousness, etc., as a tonic, anti-malarial, etc., it is unequaled, while in chronic complaints it gives relief when all other remedies fail, and is frankly acknowledged to be the only cure for many chronic complaints of a complicated nature.

CATARRH,

The success of the CALIFORNIA ROOT TEA in curing Catarrh is proverbial and surprises many who do not understand the nature of this terrible disease, which in most cases can be permanently cured only through the blood by a thorough course of this vegetable remedy, conceded to be the only thorough and permanent blood cleanser known, a course of it completely eradicating for all time the most virulent types of blood and skin diseases, rheumatism, etc. All who use it, leading druggists and physicians gladly attest its great sterling worth.

Sold in its truly vegetable form, in packets at $1; each packet makes a quart of rich balsam of which the dose is two spoonsful three times daily, making its cost much less than other medicines. Make like tea or put in wine, etc.; pleasant to take when nicely sweetened. It is Nature's life-bearing balsam—its success assured in advance in all cases

Ask for it and take no drugs or disguised mercury. Six pkts. $5 00

FELLOWS' HYPOPHOSPHITES.

For several months past I have used FELLOWS' COMPOUND SYRUP OF HYPOPHOSPHITES in phthisis, chronic bronchitis, and other affections of the chest. I have no hesitation in stating it ranks foremost among remedies used in these diseases. Z. S. EARLE, M. D., St. John, N. B.

I strongly recommend Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites to all who suffer in any way from diseases or weakness of the lungs, bronchial tubes, or from general debility.
J. H. W. SCOTT, M. D., Gagetown, N. B.

Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites acted with expedition and entire satisfaction in a case of aphonia, which failed to yield to regular treatment. S. JACOBS, M. D., Lunenburgh, N. S.

No hesitation in recommending Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites for general debility, or any diseases of the lungs.
H. G. ADDY, M. D.

In restoring persons suffering from dyphtheretic prostration and cough, following typhoid fever, Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites is the best remedy I ever used.
EDWIN CLAY, M. D., Pugwash, N. S.

DR. PAUL M. BRENAN.

His Wonderful Success IN THE TREATMENT OF ALL

Chronic and Acute Diseases.

He has astonished the People of this Coast by his skillful Operations.

HE HAS TAUGHT IN HIS public and private lectures the true principles of health and life to both male and female. He has also warned them against habits that would be likely to produce disease, in plain and comprehensive language. But where he has found them crushed and broken down by disease, mentally and physically, he has restored them to health and happiness, for it is well understood that without health there can be no happiness.

DR. BRENAN has made a specialty in the treatment of the following diseases: Catarrh, Bronchitis, and all diseases of the throat and chest; by an entirely new system only known to himself. Diseases of the Kidneys and Urinary Organs, including Spermatorrhea, Seminal Weakness or premature loss of Manhood. In the treatment of these diseases he has made a world wide reputation by his astonishing success, not only on this Coast but throughout the whole United States. Diseases of the stomach, bowels, liver and kidneys as well as all diseases of the blood and skin he has become master of, and never fails to give relief at once, and permanently cures the case if he is applied to in time.

THE DOCTOR HAS GIVEN SPECIAL LECTURES to ladies only for years and is perfectly familiar with all female complaints, and understands their delicate and refined organization, as well as the proper remedies which should be used to allay their suffering and restore them to perfect health.

THE DOCTOR HAS THIS ADVANTAGE over most physicians—he can tell the patients' disease the moment he comes in contact with them without any aid from the individual. This accounts in part for his great professional success.

All surgical operations can be performed by his skillful hand, and the patient need not fear the result.

DR. BRENAN will send to those living at a distance and who cannot well visit his office a list of Printed Questions and by the answers when filled out he can tell the disease as well as the proper treatment almost as well as seeing the patient personally, and will forward the proper medicines, or instruments, to any part of the country with full instructions and advice. Each letter requiring advice or list of questions, must contain two postage stamps.

Everything strictly confidential and honorable.

THE DOCTOR has studied in the best Medical Schools in Europe and three years in the Jefferson Medical College at Philadelphia, as more than one of the Medical men of the Medical Faculty in this State can testify.

CAUTION.

Persons coming to Portland, requiring medical treatment of the proper kind, who desire to consult with me, will please beware of persons who may try to coax them away to other so-called Doctors, through pretended friendship for the patients. Look out for them; they are knaves, prompted by selfish motives and what they can make. Be sure and ask for DR. PAUL M. BRENAN, the Medical Lecturer, and read his sign on his door.
